Atlanta based Organic Baby Food Company Yummy Spoonfuls to Attend the Alive Expo 2009 at the Georgia World Congress Center

Atlanta, May 15, 2009: Atlanta baby food company Yummy Spoonfuls will partner with Destiny Organics to participate in the Alive Expo Health and Wellness Consumer Show for the first time in the company's three year history. The expo will take place at the Georgia World Congress Center on May 16 & 17 from 10-7 on Saturday and 10-6 on Sunday.

"We are so excited to take part in this show," said Agatha Achindu, CEO of Yummy Spoonfuls. "We truly believe in the old adage you are what you eat, so we wanted to make a product that is both delicious and nutritious. A lot of the people who will be coming to the Expo are looking for ideas and products of how to live better. This is our chance to let them sample our products, to meet some of our loyal customers in person, and give them some good information on the benefits of organic eating."

Attendees of the Alive Expo will have the opportunity to register and win an eco-friendly gift basket with some of the most luxurious baby items in the country. The basket's value is estimated to be worth more than $500.00. Participating companies include EcoDiscoveries, HotSling, Zola Goods, Sally B Yummies, Sweetsation Therapy, and of course Yummy Spoonfuls. To register attendees will need to complete entry at Yummy Spoonfuls booth in the Destiny Organics exhibition area.
